Putting Safety First

“OUR CHILDREN; BE SEEN, BE SAFE!”

In our quest to further entrench safety at home and cultivate a safety culture amongst our children, Namdeb sponsored reflective bands to the learners of both Oranjemund Private School (OPS) and Ambrosius Amutenya Combined School (AACS) today (Friday, 29 June 2018). This important safety initiative was realized when it was observed that early in the morning when our learners walked to school, it was quite dark and thus the children’s safety was at risk.

A total of 1100 reflective bands were produced locally by a local entrepreneur and are enough for all the learners at both schools. The bands are highly visible and can be wrapped around the uniform sleeve or stuck on the back of school bags for visibility.

Namdeb CEO, Riaan Burger handed over the reflective bands to the principals of both schools. During the handover, Riaan thanked the school for always thinking of the children’s safety and coming up with a “life saving” initiative. “At Namdeb safety is our number one priority and the safety of our children is equally important. The CEO called on the teachers and parents to encourage all the children to ensure that they always put on the reflective bands in the morning so that they can be seen and be safe.

Thank you to everyone and in particular to Namdeb for always putting safety first and caring for our children!
